The power point presentation given by Mr. Harris is available for viewing on the City's website.

Rolf Gerstenberger, and Gary Howe, President and Vice President, Steelworkers' Union Local 1005 respectively, and Jake Lombardo, Political Action Committee Chairperson, appeared before the Committee to respond to questions of the Committee.

Mr. Gerstenberger's comments included, but were not limited to, the following:

- First concern that came up last month is that U.S. Steel locked out the employees on November 7, 2010; there was no strike vote; employees worked for three months past the expiry of their contract and were not interested in going on strike or getting locked out
- U.S. Steel decided to lock out its employees
- Presented that Local 1005 is the obstacle to not having water treatment plant completed; Local 1005 is presented as villains
- Local has long history about being concerned about environment damage caused by the steel industry
- Have been locked out for over 10 months, no arrests, no accusations of violence, some people who enter and exit have to wait a bit, but usual give and take on picket lines
- Have had 2 injunctions against Local at the Gate and 1 at Lift Bridge; trying to encourage unionized workers not to cross picket line and want everyone to respect it

- Quoted the following from Local 1005 Information Update #32 – September 12, 2011: “In the matter of the renovations required to the water treatment plant, the lawyer for U. S. Steel asked us if we would permit AECON to cross the picket line to start the work and we said NO. U. S. Steel should settle the phony lock-out with Local 1005 and stop its cynical attempts to blame Local 1005 for its irresponsibility toward the state of affairs at its Hamilton Works. Today, USS is supposed to report to City Council on what efforts it is making to settle its phony lockout. Let us hope City Council does not grant U.S. Steel another extension, which is does not warrant.”

Discussion of the matter respecting U. S. Steel Sewer Compliance was deferred to the Private and Confidential portion of the meeting in order to receive legal advice. This matter will be added as Item 12.5.
