What is Raise an Aim?

The first civic crowdfunding platform in Canada exclusively for civic projects. Our goal is to bring together people, civic organizations and government to work together to accomplish things neither can do on their own. Both the government entities and people can post projects and raise money. Projects are approved by the concerned authorities before they are made public. Once this succeeds, then the idea can become a real project and begin crowdfunding. In return, jobs are created, cities are enhanced and people not only gain perks and rewards as part of a project (non-monetary e.g bench plaques) but also a sense of belonging to their city.

The following is a list of entities that will qualify for projects on Raise an Aim:

- Public/private partnerships (e.g installing benches in a new sub-division or park)
- Institutions whose mission caters primarily to civic infrastructure (e.g bike share startups)
- Constitutionally chartered municipalities
