I don't think Hamiltonians understand that this $1B is our tax money and is already dedicated to improving transit to Ontario. If we don't get this money, it will go to Burlington, or Oakville, or Kitchener, or to GO Transit. I think people envision that if we say no to LRT, we will somehow still get this money - either through tax savings or other transit projects in Hamilton. If we don't ask for our tax money to come to Hamilton, it will go somewhere else in the province.

This really is a once in a lifetime opportunity to invest in our city. It will be a very sad day if our city councillors don't have the vision and courage to take advantage of this.

Hamilton needs the LRT to move the city forward, and improve the face of Hamilton. Hamilton also need to have less traffic going through the down town core, by having some more highway and bridges.

Please vote yes to LRT.

I recently moved to Hamilton because of forward looking transit initiatives like the LRT, separated bike lanes, and GO stations. The city would benefit tremendously from rapid transit.

Railways have been one of the primary engines of growth for this country, historically. This city needs this project if it is to come fully into the 21st century. Please ignore the naysayers and the wardheelers who do not share our combined vision for the future. Run the spur line all the way to the waterfront to increase both access and services.

I live on Stoney Creek mountain, take the Red Hill and King Street to work in downtown Hamilton every day. I'm the person who some members of Council believe should NOT support LRT because of the impact that it'll have on my commute.

But I know that a city is more than my needs - a vibrant, successful city takes into consideration what's best for everyone, is ambitious and looks to the future instead of the next four years of a political mandate.

It is time that councillors in this city stop thinking of themselves as Lords of their fiefdoms and start to realize that they need to think bigger and be bigger than themselves.

I support LRT in Hamilton as an evidence-based means to improve the local economy, long term, and reduce sprawl in to our precious farmlands. Further, because buses that serve the current B-line will no longer be needed, they will be deployed elsewhere in the city, making it easier for someone who lives downtown (as I do) to enjoy the amenities of the suburbs (for example, movie theatres that are currently are very poorly served by transit).

Hamilton's downtown is fast becoming a draw to young and energetic people. Instead of being a burned out boarded up place to leave when they grow up, downtown Hamilton is becoming the place to be for young people making their homes, families and livelihoods here, and creating active and involved neighbourhoods.

Critical to that is improved mass transit development downtown with connections to all areas of the city and to other cities. The LRT will serve the entire community, not just downtown. It will spur residential and commercial development to serve the needs of those moving downtown, create employment along the corridor, connect residents to places of employment more efficiently, and move all of Hamilton into a new era.

Obviously, for full effectiveness the LRT will also require improved transit connections and service throughout the whole city, outlying areas and other cities. That demand will build naturally as the LRT becomes a reality, as will the identification and allocation of funds for increased service to connect to downtown. Area ratings will have to be reevaluated as area demands for transit become clearer.

City leaders now just have to take the first step: accept $1b in funding and build the LRT.

Hamilton light Rail should be built asap as it will not only benefit Hamilton but it will be an investment for the economy of Ontario as well because a good transit system plays a major role on urban development as well as expansion. With the light rail, Hamilton will grow in to a much bigger city which will creat jobs as well as opportunities. Also, people that love to live major urban areas might choose to live in Hamilton too where as right now, people won't consider Hamilton if they can reside in Toronto, Montreal, Vancouver because they have better transit system.

Do you really want this money going to another municipality?

Let's all be grown-ups and look at the big picture for a change.

I am really disappointed by council's lack of vision and direction on the LRT project and on transportation on a whole within the city. The only way we will turn the city around is if we have safe streets and a working transit system. If council members want to still have their jobs after the next election, then it is about time that they started supporting great initiatives like the LRT rather than delaying and stonewalling every change for the better. Shame on them.

With funding from the provincial government, we have a once in a lifetime opportunity to put this project in motion. All great cities have accessible public transit systems, and this is our opportunity to make our city a modern place to live. Hamilton is on the rise - please don't slow us down!

I currently live in ward 8, bus service here isn't amazing, but it's enough for now. Living up the hill I always viewed a car as a requirement. I lived in wards 1 and 2 before I owned a car. I regularly traveled around Hamilton.

Starting with the B-Line makes the most sense. And having a train instead of bus improves the chances of transit being on time, of more people taking it, and it not being overcrowded.

I've lived here 9 years and have loved watching the whole city transform for the better. Don't stop now.

Subject: The Value of Investing in Canadian DOWNTOWNS (Canadian Urban Institute)

An invaluable report: The Value of Investing in Canadian DOWNTOWNS #LRT #future #economy #sharedneighbourhood #soulofthecity

<http://plannersweb.com/2013/09/healthy-downtown-key-strong-community/>

"Why are downtowns important and why the need for all of these revitalization strategies? Because downtowns are the heart of a city and region -- and having a healthy heart is essential to having a strong city and region."

"Downtowns are iconic and powerful symbols for a city and often contain the most iconic landmarks, distinctive features, and unique neighborhoods. Given that most downtowns were one of the oldest neighborhoods citywide, they offer rare insights into their city's past, present and future."

The Canadian Urban Institute (CUI) was engaged by the International Downtown Association's Canadian Issues Task Force to carry out one of the most significant reviews of downtowns to date.

The Canadian Urban Institute (CUI) "Value of Investing in Canadian Downtowns" study is one of the first of its kind and could become an international model.

The report, "The Value of Investing in Canadian Downtowns," collected data from Canada's major cities, to establish benchmarks for downtown vibrancy and productivity.

The report cited that many municipalities have begun to re-evaluate what is happening in their downtowns. There is a growing understanding that a strong downtown can be a major stimulator for economic growth and potentially a key revenue generator for local government.

The CUI study documented the major contribution downtowns are making to the economic health of their respective cities, now and into the future. The downtowns featured in CUI's report often take up as little as one percent of citywide land area, but attract ten or twenty times that in terms of contributing to the City's assessment base and generating property tax revenues. All of the downtowns featured in this report are making major contributions to their city's bottom line and economic prosperity.

Downtowns throughout North America are making a major contribution to the bottom line of their municipalities. In most cases downtowns serve as the engine for local economies. However, downtowns are much more than a profit center to cities. They also represent the image and character of a city to the rest of the world. Downtowns are unique in that they are typically the only neighborhood that belongs to and is shared by everyone in the region.

In today's global economy with competition between municipalities for jobs and talent it is critical that cities have a shared vision centered on a redevelopment plan for their downtown.

Subject: THE TIME IS NOW City Councillors!

Dear City Council,

Please support the Provincial LRT plan for Hamilton since this is a key part of a much bigger picture about improving transit in Ontario. Show leadership and a vision for what the future will bring in terms of needs but also opportunities. Let's not get caught up in narrow minded thinking and then pay the price later with congestion. Just look at Toronto as a negative example where inaction and indetermination has brought on massive gridlock.
GET HAMILTON READY FOR ALL THE NEW DEVELOPMENT IN THE LOWER CITY!

An efficient, environmentally friendly transit system is exactly what would appeal to a West Mountain resident like myself. The benefit from LRT will be seen by all Hamiltonians, not just downtown residents. Revitalization is overdue. Also, residents should feel proud of a city which embraces change, which I believe, in the case of LRT, is for the better.

Subject: The LRT would make a positive impact on Hamilton.

Hello,

I may not live downtown, but I work in the core of Hamilton and have many friends that reside in the area that would benefit from the LRT. Everyone I have talked to believes that nothing but good things for the city will come from this project.

Not only will it help people get around in a more efficient manner than is currently available, but it will also provide quick access to the core to people who do not have it as an option. This alone will drive more people to spend time and money in different areas than before, which will make operating businesses and living in the core more desirable. The LRT will most definitely escalate improvement across the city of Hamilton.

Please don't let a dated city council with prehistoric views negatively impact what would be a huge step forward in this amazing city.

Thank you so much for your time reading my message, and for all the efforts put into getting this project completed.

I fully support the LRT! I live in an area that will be inconvenienced by years of construction, but I see the bigger picture. It's time to stop debating "IF" and start developing the transportation that appeals to businesses, pedestrians and the greater good of the city - from rural to urban. We should all be proud of a downtown that looks clean, professional and able to keep up with this progressive renewal. Anyone opposed to the LRT and its funding is just playing politics and wasting all of our time.

I am a strong supporter of public transit of all forms. The European models were the first to which I was exposed. Being a native of Calgary, AB. I've seen the efficiency of an LRT system. I understand that there are plans to expand the LRT to other parts of the city in the future. This is an excellent plan. I believe the LRT system to be the best long term solution to transit issues and give it my full support.

Subject: Tenured incompetence or a cynical disregard for the public good?

This attempt at stalling the LRT plan is at least lame brained and at worst evidence of the hidden agendas and moneyed interests that regularly appear to have their way with our taxes in Hamilton.

In my experience I have found that Hamilton citizens have little or no respect for its city council. Bad decisions or inaction are expected, squandered opportunities the norm. The more disturbing thing is that citizens also feel certain that there is nothing they can do about it. A city hall that approves costly and insulting projects like "Barton Village" is very likely on its way to doing something equally foolish and cynical with the LRT.

If we are to save any farmland in the fruitful Niagara Peninsula we have to build denser urban neighbourhoods. The LRT will service those areas and encourage economic development in them. This will benefit the whole city in increased tax base and a more robust economy. I have lived in both Calgary and Vancouver and enjoyed the travel flexibility of the SkyTrain, the rapid transit metropolitan rail system of Greater Vancouver, and Calgary's LRT. They are almost universally considered a vast improvement over transit before they were built even by former detractors.
LRT is a positive and progressive idea whose time has come.

Subject: Support LRT for its transport, economic and social benefits

Dear Mr. Collins, honourable councillors:

This letter is to express my support for LRT for its verified transportation, economic and social benefits.

First, creating an efficient transportation system is a challenge in Hamilton. However, building more roads is not the answer. If there's anything that traffic engineers have discovered in the last few decades it's that you can't build your way out of congestion. It's the roads themselves that cause traffic. Anti-LRT Tweets cannot change this unassailable fact (sorry Chad). Chris Higgins, the post-doctoral fellow who authored a paper on the LRT and its effective use, recently stated "As you build more roads, it just means more people drive." Be humbled and take the advice of the experts who understand best practices of transportation. We need logical, efficient transportation systems such as the LRT to solve our mounting congestion.

Second, numerous studies have argued conclusively for the many economic benefits. Let me state the first obvious economic benefit: 1. Billion. Dollars. This is money we are being given to grow our fledgling economy. This is a winning lottery ticket that you'd be throwing away, then taking the interest away from future generations. Also, road building is one of the biggest expenses for a city. The LRT reduces road building by taking people out of cars and using the transport network more efficiently. Further, property values will increase along the route further driving property tax revenue up with it. Hamilton needs the LRT to bring economic prosperity.

Lastly, the social benefits of LRT are immense. We have a diverse demographic living in the downtown that needs a clean, quick and safe mode of transit. The LRT emits almost no pollution, ensuring our most vulnerable are not burdened even more by poor local air quality - see the local code red report or the global UN pollution report if you've forgotten the serious health effects of city pollution. Moreover, climate change is causing disastrous flooding, especially in my Rosedale community, and we must take big steps to curb greenhouse gases, of which, LRT is a key initiative.

All Hamiltonians will benefit from a congestion-relieving, cost-benefitting, revenue-generating, and pollution-reducing project. Look at the facts, the numerous reports, and listen to experts who've all come out in favour. Don't stand in the way of community-building. Don't turn your back on a billion dollars (really?). The future is LRT.

LRT will boost downtown business. Make travel easier and more reliable. Reduce the number of cars in the lower city thus improving air quality and safety for pedestrians and cyclists.

Subject: Support LRT and keep Hamilton moving forward

Like many neighbours in our rapidly changing Central Hamilton neighbourhood, my husband and I are young professionals who moved here believing that the only direction Hamilton could move was forward. We are so saddened and disappointed to hear that City Council may reject the opportunity for LRT and a greener, cleaner Hamilton. While we love this city, rejecting LRT would send a clear message about where Hamilton is headed. We do not want to live in a city that is stuck 30 years in the past and would likely move onward and upward if this is the outcome.

I'm in full support of the LRT. I find that we are still debating something that is so obviously an asset to the growth our city dismaying. Why do we continue to let a a few backwards thinking councilors dictate the pace of progress. It is time to vote in forward thinking politicians. If we fail to to do this we will be left behind as a city.

Dear Mayor Eisenberger,

I am writing you today to encourage you to support the proposed LRT. I understand that some businesses may suffer during the construction phase, but I urge you to take a long-term view and recognize the city-building potential of this historic provincial investment in our community. In the decades to come, the LRT will only encourage more residents and businesses to come downtown.

Our city is growing into a major urban centre, and Hamilton city council needs to govern accordingly – we are not the industrial backwater that we may have been in decades past. The evolution of Hamilton's transit infrastructure to include LRT should be welcomed as a natural next step in our city's development.

Thank you very much for your continued leadership on this issue.

Best regards,

I would love to live in the Harbour area when I retire and use LRT, the GO train and walk to my favorite restaurant.

Enough bully boy rants from councillors like Whitehead who think their ward is their fiefdom.

Councillors need to be leaders and stand up for the future of our city. I think we really need Councillors at large whose concern is the whole city, not just their own little fiefdoms.

Subject: Remeber Ambitious Hamilton? Lets Be So Again.

Dear Elected Officials,

To be honest, I've put off writing this note over the past number of weeks simply because I can't believe I'm having to.

Please stand by the multiple previous expert reviews, endorsements, and unanimous Council and community reviews that have already looked at, and endorsed, pursuing the proposed initial, and future, LRT plans for Hamilton.

Please don't squander this chance for significant Provincial investment to improve car-alternative transportation in Hamilton and please, again, don't miss out on this opportunity to renew aging infrastructure that will have to be dealt with anyway as part of this larger, largely Provincially funded, initiative (traffic and businesses along the LRT route will need to be disrupted to pave roads and repair sewers eventually anyway!).

Please ensure that the Provincially funded LRT project, as proposed and budgeted for, gets underway as soon as possible and turn your attention to ensuring that the operating agreements, zoning, and infrastructure renewal opportunities it presents are all considered to maximize the project's on-going and peripheral upsides for our City.

Hamilton is on the cusp of (or well into) a significant renewal of its lower City. This will have major impacts on our tax base and allow more sustainable financing of the urban (and suburban) needs our City faces. Please don't allow trolling naysayers and narrow-mined parochialism to stand in the way of projects that might assist this uplift.

I hope you will support the LRT.

Thank you.

When our family was considering moving to Hamilton a big draw was it's commitment to bringing LRT to the heart of the city. The planned route weighed heavily in our choice of neighbourhood, with us considering neighbourhoods both at the centre of the transit hub and at the ends of the line - but always near the planned LRT route. We knew full well that we would be impacted by construction for several years but we had the foresight to know that the short-term pain would be a longterm gain for our family. It would be a shame if the city turned away a 1 Billion dollar commitment to developing the city and I would hope that council would be able to see past the hurdles of getting the project done and see the long-term benefits it brings to the residents and business' of Hamilton. Our family would be sorely disappointed if one of the big draws to Hamilton was turned away. Please say Yes to LRT!

It's time that we take Hamilton into the 21st century, and pull out of the 19th century that suburban councilors intend to keep us, ravaged by car infrastructure that the city maintains despite an overwhelming need for transit and safety and young people.

I've grown up in Hamilton and I plan to stay here because I see its potential to be a world class city. LRT is crucial. It's everything we need to unite this city and streamline positive development.

Mayor and Councillors

I am totally in favour of LRT in Hamilton. The benefits, which have been made very clear in many other cities, are much needed here. The province's contribution makes it possible. Please make it very clear that you are continuing in your unanimous support for Hamilton's LRT.

The LRT is an important investment in Hamilton, with money coming from the province. It would be shortsighted to turn down this opportunity!

An open letter to Councillor Chad Collins

Hello Councillor Collins,

I am writing to appeal to you NOT to stand in the way of LRT coming to Hamilton. I gather that you understand the arguments for LRT, but have decided that those arguments are not strong enough to proceed with the recommendation of previous councils and the province.

Fair enough - every Councillor is meant to voice the concerns of their constituents.

You have a responsibility to more than your constituents with a proposal like this. You are actually responsible to all Hamiltonians to build a better city.

If everyone who objected to the Red Hill Valley Expressway had managed to stand in the way of its construction and funding, what would Ward 5 be like?

The positive change that the Red Hill brought to Ward 5 is essentially what's at stake for all of us over in Ward 1, 2 and 3. We are looking at a major transformation of neighbourhoods that have been depressed for generations.

We can't move people with an expressway cutting through the city, because we don't have the space and we have an obligation to intensify the population downtown. LRT gives us downtown what the Red Hill gave to your constituents in Ward 5.

With that in mind, I plead that you reconsider your position on this subject.

Kind regards,

Steve McKay
