DUNDAS LANEWAY DECISION

You will receive lots of mail on this issue so I will present short and sweet ideas in point form. Thanks for taking the time to think about this.

-the laneway existed for 160 years with no issues (safety or otherwise)

-no former owner of the house in question even felt they needed a fence onto the lane

-what owner today does not have a fence at the bottom of their property onto a laneway?

-how could a city council in all conscience vote in favour of one property owner (simply because of their wealth and influence at city hall) over the vast numbers of people who attended meetings, presented ideas and are so passionate about their town and uncluttered democracy

- it is time to tell the owner to built a fence ...or, for council to at lease pause as Andrew Dreschel indicated in his editorial

Thank you
