

Resource	Type	Address/Location	Recognition	Description	Photograph(s)
BHR 9	Residence	1021 Garner Road East Located near Site 6	Inventory of Buildings of Architectural and/or Historical Interest "Lampman Stone House", currently in process of being listed to the Heritage Register	Historical: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Built c.1854 by John Lampman Associated with early agricultural development in Ancaster Design: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> One-and-a-half storey stone farmhouse with neo-classical features, including three-bay symmetrical front facade, central entrance with transom and sidelights, gable roof, brick chimney, and large decorative stone quoining Rear one-storey addition and modern rear shed dormer Front portico is also a modern addition Landscape features include U-shaped driveway and mature vegetation Context: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Set back from the road No longer associated with agricultural fields or agricultural outbuildings 	 Southeast elevation of the residence at 1021 Garner Road East Source: ASI 2016
CHL 1	White Brick Church and Cemetery	99 Garner Road East (formerly Hwy 53 East) Located near Site 4	Inventory of Places of Worship	Historical: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Present church was built in 1857 on land donated by John Rymal Cemetery interments are largely from the nineteenth century Design: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> The church features a front-facing gable roof, wood fascia and return eaves, white brick exterior, stone foundations, gothic window and front door opening, and large wood panel double door on the front elevation Concrete steps with four risers lead from a grassy open space in front of the church Gravestones are located to the north and west of the church, and the property is surrounded by modern post-and-wire fencing A wooded area is located to the east of church Context: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> The church and cemetery are located in close proximity to Garner Road East at the corner of Anson Drive The property serves as a distinctive community and historical landmark 	 Oblique view of the north elevation of the residence at 4 Garner Road East Source: ASI 2016