

Dear alPHa Members,

Re: 2019 Ontario Budget, Protecting what Matters Most

Unlike previous recent budgets, the 2019 Ontario Budget contains a section devoted specifically to Modernizing Ontario's Public Health Units, so the traditional chapter-by-chapter summary of other items of interest to alPHa's members will be delayed as our immediate focus will be need to be on the significant changes that are being proposed for Ontario's public health system.

It appears that the Government intends to create efficiencies through streamlining back-office functions, adjusting provincial-municipal cost-sharing, and reducing the total number of health units and Boards of Health from 35 to 10 in a new regional model. As details about how they will do this are scarce, verbatim excerpts from the two areas that are directly relevant are reproduced here (comments added in italics):

VERBATIM EXCERPT FROM CHAPTER 1, A PLAN FOR THE PEOPLE: MODERNIZING ONTARIO'S PUBLIC HEALTH UNITS (P. 119)

"Ontario currently has 35 public health units across the province delivering programs and services, including monitoring and population health assessments, emergency management and the prevention of injuries. Funding for public health units is shared between the Province and the municipalities.

However, the current structure of Ontario's public health units does not allow for consistent service delivery, could be better coordinated with the broader system and better aligned with current government priorities. This is why Ontario's Government for the People is modernizing the way public health units are organized, allowing for a focus on Ontario's residents, broader municipal engagement, more efficient service delivery, better alignment with the health care system and more effective staff recruitment and retention to improve public health promotion and prevention.

As part of its vision for organizing Ontario public health, the government will, as first steps in 2019-20:

- Improve public health program and back-office efficiency and sustainability while providing consistent, high-quality services, be responsive to local circumstances and needs by adjusting provincial-municipal cost-sharing of public health funding (ed. Note: what this means is not spelled out, i.e. it is not clear how such an adjustment would contribute to efficiency and if they are considering a change to the relative share, they have not revealed what it will be).
- Streamline the Ontario Agency for Health Protection and Promotion to enable greater flexibility with respect to non-critical standards based on community priorities (ed. Note: again, not spelled out).

The government will also:

- Establish 10 regional public health entities and 10 new regional boards of health with one common governance model by 2020-20 (based on the excerpt from chapter 3 below, it is likely that this means consolidation and not the establishment of another regional layer);
- Modernize Ontario’s public health laboratory system by developing a regional strategy to create greater efficiencies across the system and reduce the number of laboratories; and
- Protect what matters most by ensuring public health agencies focus their efforts on providing better, more efficient front-line care by removing back-office inefficiencies through digitizing and streamlining processes.

VERBATIM EXCERPT FROM CHAPTER 3, ONTARIO’S FISCAL PLAN AND OUTLOOK (HEALTH SECTOR INITIATIVES, P. 276-7):

Health Sector expense is projected to increase from $62.2B in 2018-19 to $63.5B in 2021-22, representing an annual average growth rate of 1.6% over the period...Major sector-wide initiatives will allow health care spending to be refocused from the back office to front-line care. These initiatives include:

- Modernizing public health units through regionalization and governance changes to achieve economies of scale, streamlined back-office functions and better-coordinated action by public health units, leading to annual savings of $200M by 2021-22.

Gordon Fleming and Pegeen Walsh (ED, OPHA) were able to ask a couple of questions of clarification of Charles Lammam (Director, Policy, Office of the Deputy Premier and Minister of Health and Long-Term Care), and he mentioned that strong local representation and a commitment to strong public health standards will be part of the initiative, and the focus of the changes is more on streamlining the governance structure. He also indicated that many of the details (including the cost-sharing model) will need to be ironed out in consultation with municipal partners and hinted that there is a rationale behind the proposed number of health units though he couldn’t share that level of detail at this time.

alPha’s Executive Committee will be holding a teleconference at 9 AM on Friday April 12 to begin the formulation of a strategic approach to obtaining further details about the foregoing and responding to the proposals. As always, the full membership will be consulted and informed at every opportunity.

We hope that you find this information useful.
