Good afternoon Angela

With technology and folks working from home, engagement doesn't have to take place at city hall. And with that being said - I don't think evenings would reduce engagement. The minority of folks who Consistently show up except political people may not be able to make it, but more seniors and folks who do not feel comfortable with night time meetings will.

I would welcome daytime meetings especially if we could stick to time limits for sessions and speakers (including councillors)

Gratefully Yours,

Alex
