- floor decals and signage related to physical distancing requirements are not user-friendly for persons with disabilities, in that they are not uniform in design and do not contain any tactile walking surface indicators
- no information or regulations were put forth to recommend physical distancing measures for persons with various assistive devices
- some temporary outdoor patio set-ups blocked accessible parking spots and curb ramps

- residential care facility evictions
- lack of open, accessible restrooms in public spaces
- the digital divide, being the gap that exists between individuals who have access to modern information and communication technology and those who do not, disproportionately hits the disabled population and is compounded by employment programs and libraries, often used for public internet access, being closed by emergency orders
- increased social isolation, loss of personal support workers, disruption of vital health services and difficulties accessing basic necessities and information
- accessible pedestrian signals were disabled, but notification of this change was not provided in an accessible format
- lack of representation by or consultation with persons with disabilities on the Emergency Operations Centre Team
