MEMORANDUM TO: Richard Stubbings
Assistant Deputy Minister
Public Safety Division
Ministry of the Solicitor General

FROM: Vivienne Lipman
A/Assistant Deputy Attorney General/Director
Victims and Vulnerable Persons Division

SUBJECT: 2021-22 Civil Remedies Grant Program

Earlier today the government announced that the 2021-2022 Civil Remedies Grant Program (Program) will be launched on November 3rd, 2020 and applications will be due to the Ministry of the Attorney General on Tuesday December 15th, by 5:00pm.

The Program will provide one-time funding of up to $100,000 per project (up to $200,000 per organization). Recipients will deliver local, community-based projects that help support victims of crime and prevent unlawful activities that result in victimization. Projects funded by the Program may include crisis counselling, local public education campaigns, and initiatives to research, target and prevent criminal activity.

We have revised this year's Program to better ensure funding directly supports victims, prevents victimization and a wider range of community partners are encouraged to apply. These are the priority crime types and population groups for the Program:

- Indigenous communities;
- Children and youth;
- Intimate partner and family violence;
- Gun and gang violence; and
- Rural/remote communities.

The 2021-22 Program details are as follows:

2021-2022 CIVIL REMEDIES GRANT PROGRAM SUMMARY
MAXIMUM AMOUNT PER GRANT	MAXIMUM AMOUNT PER ORGANIZATION	APPLICATION DEADLINE	FUNDING ESTIMATED TO BEGIN	GRANT MUST BE EXPENDED BY
$100,000	$200,000	December 15, 2020	April 1, 2021	March 31, 2022

Eligible applicants include: the RCMP; Ontario Police Services; First Nation Police Services; not-for-profit entities; community agencies; and Indigenous (First Nation, Inuk and Métis) communities and organizations.

Interested applicants should visit the Transfer Payment Ontario (TPON) website at: <https://www.ontario.ca/page/get-funding-ontario-government> to access the Program Guidelines and Application Instructions.

We would like to ask that you please share this important announcement with your impacted stakeholders and refer them to the Program Coordinator at MAG_CivilRemediesGrants@ontario.ca if they have any questions.
