Hamilton's new Living Wage rate will be released on Monday, November 18th. This presentation will focus on the Living Wage campaign locally and inform Councillors about the new calculation. The living wage rate, which reflects the actual cost of living in Hamilton, is a vital measure that highlights the gap between minimum wage earnings and what's truly needed for individuals and families to meet basic needs. This presentation would also help build awareness among policymakers and the public, reinforcing the importance of aligning wages with the city's real cost of living and promoting Hamilton as a fair, equitable place to work and live.

Will you be requesting funds from the City?
