Subject: courtyard application for liquor license

Dear Brian, Daniel and Vince;

Until last evening, the Kirkendall Neighbourhood Association was under the impression that if the Courtyard restaurant were to change ownership, a liquor license would require reapplication and the new owner(s) would be required to go through a new application process. A future change of ownership was the main concern at the recent community meeting about the Courtyard licensing (where no city planning person was in attendance) and I regret that many of us were mistaken in presenting at that meeting our belief that the policy would be as stated above. We learned only last evening that this is not the case and that a new owner could simply have the license transferred. This concerns some of us and a number of members of the community who feel the need to have this discussed and clarified before a liquor license is granted to the Courtyard. Most are not opposed to the granting of a liquor license to the Courtyard and that in and of itself, such action would not present problems; however, the possible future change of ownership and simple transfer of that license becomes an important issue. We ask that this be seriously addressed at the meeting of the committee of adjustment this morning. Unfortunately, I am unable to attend as I have a medical appointment in Toronto.

I would like to send apologies to Mr. Bernstein for any difficulties this letter might present for him, but the very new information received is of concern and must be addressed.

Sincerely,

Mary Lou Reiman
