Hi Brenda

I read the Stoney Creek News today, and kind of laughed. The headline on page one said Stoney Creek residents against the SCUBE planning. I was there and I saw maybe 6 people speak out against the plan and most of this was a committee that I had never ever spoke with. I did some research and from what i can see Cal Di Falco does not even live within the SCUBE area. So I wonder how he became a spokesperson. I think the Planning people did a good job. There is maybe some room for change, like maybe a Food Basics and a theatre, thats what i heard from people that were at the meeting. Walmart at Fifty road is as close as Walmart at Centennial, for us that are in Fruitland. I just wanted something here for the east end. I have known for many years this was coming, so I don't want to delay this in any way. Please feel free to put this comment on public record.

Hi Brenda

Yes you do. I have to give you credit Brenda, I could not do your job. No matter how much they paid me (haha) I don't really have a lot of problems with the City Plan, I just would really like some commercial around here like a grocery store, even a small one like Food Basics etc. I would love to read the survey that was done to say we could not sustain any more commercial in my area, we have like nothing out here. I have lived here near Fruitland Road for 32 years and I either have to go to Fortino's or Grimsby. I don't want another Walmart personally, its about the same distance from us as Walmart on Centennial. But it seems like a done deal. And as far as those people that built half a million dollar homes on Barton, well they just didn't do their homework. I have know this was coming for many many years. Also the plan that the community committee drew up, I had never heard or seen it before. They were at my door the other day asking me to sign, and I told them if you believed in your plan you would have tried to sell it, and like I said I knew nothing about it. I will see you at the meeting tonight..

By the way..good job done last week in keeping that meeting in order!

Hi Brenda

Just thought you might be interested in seeing my backyard pictures that were taken I believe about a couple of months ago. As much as i would like to see development and some services, like grocery stores, banks, restaurants for our area. We don't have much out here. I think Barton St around the Fruitland Road area should be made commercial, it is a main road and it just makes sense. I have lived in this area for over 30 years and have always had some water in my backyard but never this much. I am concerned and I don't know how much more my floor boards can take. I have no basement. Many studies and many years have passed and what frustrates me is in all that time we still don't have all the information. I am concerned when they start to build behind me, what will happen. Yes we have to get it right. I would like to see this land developed because I would like to buy a new home back there. Anyways I am sending you some pictures I thought you might be interested in seeing.

Thank you
