The presentation will show how the City can: - Eliminate the costs of manually tracking labour and the cost of paper tracking - Eliminate buddy punching and labour fraud - Eliminate security concerns and costs of lost badge cards - Maximize accountability and fairness in how workers are paid - Report on labour expenses with 100% accuracy - Collect information on work completed by individual workers so the City can make better decisions - Manage safety information for any job site from a central location We have provided a demonstration to Earl Provost with the Mayor's Office in the City of Toronto and as a result we have already begun the project proposal process. We would love show you the same demonstration so you can see just how much we have simplified this complex tool. It is the newest, most inexpensive and most effective way to 'simplify AND 'modernize' operations. We are available anytime during the week of March 21st if that suits your schedule. Thank you for your time and I look forward to your response. Chad Pearson Business Developer, Plexxis Inc.
